Member's story

Kathy and Bonnie McAlinden MedicAlert member since 2006

All parents want to provide the very best for their children, and when Kathy's baby girl Bonnie was diagnosed with life-threatening allergies she knew that one of the best things she could give her daughter was a MedicAlert membership to help keep her safe.

"At Bonnie's school I've seen new teachers' aides or relief teachers naturally go to check her bracelet and because her school doesn't allow children to wear jewellery, they quickly understand that it serves a much more important purpose beyond fashion," she says.

Whether it is gymnastics, cheerleading, choir, or swimming lessons, the active Queensland youngster understands that wearing her MedicAlert bracelet is an important accessory. Kathy says she doesn't have to worry as much about the constant threat of an unexpected reaction.

"I strongly recommend investing in a MedicAlert bracelet to all parents who have children with allergies – the financial outlay is minimal, and the peace of mind it offers is priceless," says Kathy.
